

A B S T R A C T

5 An amusement device comprising a vehicle that can be moved over an elongated track as well as a track portion that can be moved jointly with said vehicle from a first, relatively low position to a second, relatively high position, or vice versa, which track portion can connect to said elongated track. The track portion extends substantially 10 horizontally in said first position, whereas the track portion extends at an angle to the horizontal in said second position.